To Whom It May Concern:

We have engaged Firstcom Solutions to revamp our company's website. Our project executive, Wei Li was always prompt and proactive to follow-up which made the entire process a breeze.

Not only was Firstcom being able to provide the technical aspect of building a website and providing IT solutions, at the same time also injecting creative design elements. What we especially appreciate was definitely the meticulous consideration of user's overall experience.

All in all, We are very pleased with their service and would definitely recommend anyone who are in need of consultancy in IT solutions.

Sincerely,

Miao
